

MERCHANTS BACK BASEBALL TEAM

The monthly meeting of the Daly City Merchants' Association was held at the City Hall, Wednesday evening at 8:30, a very large number of the business and professional men of the community being present.

The question of peddlers' licenses was again discussed at some length, and after several of the members had expressed their views on the question, a committee of four was appointed to take the matter up again with the City Council, and to take steps for immediate action to place a license fee of $75 on peddlers.

Mr. L. Cavanaugh, representing the Daly City baseball team, was present at the meeting and he outlined the plans of the team for the coming season. Following his address, a motion prevailed to donate $50 to the team, to be used in the purchase of new suits, and Dr. F. P. Callen was appointed to keep in touch with the management of the team and report on the activities of the team during the baseball season. It was stated that the team made splendid progress last season, and Mr. Cavanaugh assured the merchants that if he could get their loyal support again this season, Daly City would indeed be proud of its team.

Upon adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served at the Colonial Restaurant, and the members discussed the proposed dance to be given by the Association in the near future.

SLASH ORDERED IN GAS LIGHT RATES

Downward revisions of both electric and gas rates were announced by the State Railroad Commission last Tuesday, effective March 1.

All of northern and central California, including the bay cities, will be affected by the reduction in electric rates, which totals $568,000.

Approximately 100,000 consumers in the smaller bay district cities will gain by the cut in gas rates.

The order on electric and power rates reduces the income of the Great Western Power Co. in these items: Light—Domestic, $77,600; commercial, $218,600; municipal, $1,100; miscellaneous, $7,000.

Power—heating and cooking, $18,000; commercial, $52,700; industrial, $107,800; agricultural, $11,500; municipal, $8,200; miscellaneous, $13,900.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Co. is effected by the gas rate reduction order, which is a part of an earlier announced prospective cut of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 in the bay area.

The new rates go into effect as natural gas is brought from Kettleman Hills field to the various districts here. It has already reached San Bruno and Hayward, so the commission has ordered the new rates into effect for consumers served from these points.

ALUMNI VICTOR IN BASKETBALL GAME

After a closely contested battle that threatened to end in a tie, the Jefferson Alumni basketball team defeated Jefferson high, 18 to 14, last Monday, on the Wesleyan church court.

Both teams played very erratic ball in the first half, due to the newness of the surroundings. The score at the end of this period was 6-3 in favor of the winners. The lead changed hands four times before the final whistle had blown in the closing half.

With five minutes to go, Jefferson was leading 12 to 11. Norman Kennedy sank a field goal to put the Alumni ahead. A minute later Jack Gibbons netted a basket for the high school. Alfred Banfield garnered a foul shot to tie the score. With the count 14 all and one minute to go, Laurence Kennedy hit the hoop to decide the winners. "Mo" Plansky's field goal a moment later cinched the contest.

Jack Gibbons was high point man for the high school quintet, with eleven points, while Laurence Kennedy garnered four field goals and a foul shot to lead the former graduates.

The lineups and individual scores follow:

Alumni—Deveneceni, F., 2; Aiello, F., 0; L. Kennedy, C., 9; Plansky, G., 2; Lagomarsino, G., 0; N. Kennedy, F., 2; R. Doyle, G., 0; Hanson, C., 0; Banfield, F., 3.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS ARE YOU LISTENING?

In the course of a conversation between the writer and a business man and heavy property owner, one day this week, the business man declared himself in the following optimistic words:

"The stock market fever is over. The public has learned its lesson. Real estate values are due to rise, and soon. This spring there will be a steady rise in prices. Now is the time to invest in a good piece of property."

"Daly City is destined to be a very thickly populated city. Property is becoming more valuable every day. As in other communities, the substantial and permanent wealth has been created by the ownership and holding of good potential home and business property."

"Those citizens who were born in the old countries know that the people who are independent in their old age are the owners of business properties in the great business sections and arteries of traffic. Many of the wealthiest families of today attribute their position to the foresight of their ancestors in acquiring and holding properties which today are exceedingly valuable income producers."

"The opportunity is here, right now, for you in Daly City to profit by it. In your old age you will be independent and your wealth will be secure and grow as the community expands. Your reward for the foresight in buying a good piece of property will be in good security and peace of mind."

Would you study chemistry from a geometry book? How do you study the Bible? "Ways of Studying the Bible" is the topic of the meeting next Sunday evening at 6:30. Young people under 24 meet with the seniors, young people over 24 meet with the Carey B. Y. B. U. And the juniors have a union of their own. There is a place in Calvary for you. Come next Sunday and get lined up with the work of the Young People and the church.

BOY SCOUTS BEGIN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

The annual budget drive of San Mateo county Boy Scouts will open next Monday, February 10, in charge of committees of leading business men in all Peninsula cities.

The budget for the coming year will be $10,500, every cent of which will be spent in San Mateo county, leaders announced. Services of a band master, field executive, equipment for additional troops, advancement of Sea Scouting form the budget items to be met, a major item this year being additional equipment for the Scout camp in the county memorial grove, where more than 800 boys were given vacations last year.

Cub Scouts, the junior organization, had only a week in the camp last year, but will have two weeks or perhaps a month this year, it has been announced. The camp has received national recognition for its beauty, sanitary arrangements, efficient supervision and the high type of improvements.

Announcing the drive, County Chairman Keyston said: "It is no longer necessary to explain the purpose of Boy Scout work. The movement is world-wide and has paid untold dividends in finer manhood and better citizenship. It is an investment in 'boyhood preferred' endorsed by President Hoover and the leaders of every nation."

"It is our earnest hope to continue this important work for San Mateo county boys. I believe they deserve it, for there are no finer boys in the world. Scouting has made good with the boy and the boy has made good under the program which Scouting provides. It speaks his own language. There could be no higher aim than to advance this great work and I am proud to serve the boys of San Mateo county in this drive."

Vice Chairman Arthur said: "I believe that every business man and every parent will welcome this opportunity to support the Boy Scout movement so necessary to the health and proper training of every San Mateo county boy. Alert minds, sound moral fibre and strong bodies develop under Boy Scout training. We cannot fail to respond. The appeal of the Boy Scout drive is a challenge to the best in all of us. I shall give every effort to insure its success."

Quotas in the county-wide drive have been announced as follows: San Mateo and Burlingame, each $2,750; Hillsborough, $2,500; Redwood City, $1,000; Menlo Park-Atherton, $700; San Bruno, $200; San Carlos, $100; Belmont, Half Moon Bay and Daly City, each $150.

APPORTIONS HUGE SUM FOR HIGHWAY

The Division of Motor Vehicles has apportioned the huge sum of $8,390,870, collected in motor vehicle license fees during 1929, to the various counties of the state and the state division of highways for road building and repair.

The apportionment, largest in the history of the state, is, in effect, a return of the money paid by the motorists in the form of more and better roads. One half, or $4,195,435, will go directly to the counties, the other half to the state body.

The apportionment is nearly $600,000 in excess of 1928, due largely to the amazing increase for the year in motor vehicle registrations. It is based on fee-paid registrations of vehicles totaling 2,026,868, an increase of 9 per cent or 167,436 vehicles over 1928.

This is the first apportionment made since the new law became effective requiring that the state pay the salaries of officers in the California Highway Patrol.

State totals in fee-paid registrations for the year were announced as follows: Passenger cars, 1,885,308; solid trucks, 20,543; pneumatic trucks, 68,490; motor cycles, 9,268; solid and pneumatic trailers, 42,899.

Frank G. Snook, chief of the division, declared the huge gain in registrations fairly indicative of the prosperity prevailing throughout the state during the year, adding that the "saturation point" was still far away.

With 40 per cent of the state's total vehicles registered from Los Angeles county, that county will receive the lion's share of the money, amounting to $1,704,819. San Francisco will receive $321,446, the second largest share, while Alameda county is third with $296,870.

San Mateo county's share of the apportionment is $49,690.27.

WILL BUILD ROAD TO COUNTY PARK

A contract for the grading of two miles of the Alpine-Memorial Park road was awarded to Frank Bryant, of San Francisco, by the supervisors of San Mateo county last Monday, his bid being $27,848, being the lowest of nineteen submitted for the work.

The grading will start at the bridge on the Alpine road and extend to the top of the Haskins Hill, over a new route, eliminating the present severe grade on this hill. The new grade at no place in the two-mile stretch will be more than 8 per cent, and the roadway itself will have a width of 30 feet, making it one of the finest scenic highways in the county. The two mile stretch from the top of the Haskins Hill to Memorial Park was completed last year. The plans and specifications for the new road were prepared by County Engineer George A. Kneese.

County Treasurer Grace L. Cooper was given permission by the board to make temporary transfer of funds to the Sequoia Union high school and the Lomita Park sanitary district funds.

Further hearing in the matter of the proposed formation of a water district in the Millbrae Villa tract was continued for one month, in order to consider provisions for fire protection in the entire Millbrae district, as well as water supply.

Fred H. Drake, president of the San Mateo County Chamber of Commerce, addressed the board and stated that work was now progressing in the extension of Junipero Serra boulevard from San Francisco into San Mateo county under the joint highway district plans. He suggested that a movement be started to have the names of the present roads that will form a link to this boulevard on the south as far as Santa Clara county changed to Junipero Serra boulevard. On motion of Supervisors Hickey and Poole, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Kneese, the clerk, was directed to write the supervisors of Santa Clara county and the officials of the various municipalities interested and ask that the matter be given attention.

Recommendations of the Social Service Commission for aid for needy blind and tubercular patients and also aged persons under the state pension act was approved by the board.

A number of applications for soft drink permits were read at the meeting and will come up for hearing on Monday, February 17.

Applications for the position of state traffic officer in San Mateo county were received from James E. Burke of Half Moon Bay, and John L. McKeon of Daly City, and were ordered placed on file.

Carrying out a recommendation of the San Mateo county grand jury in its report to Superior Judge George H. Buck last week, the board of supervisors instructed District Attorney Franklin Swart to prepare an order or an ordinance to be submitted to the board later, which will make it necessary for all justices of the peace in the county to keep separate bank accounts in the name of the officials.

Work is to be started on Bayshore road on the seven-mile link of road which will extend the Bayshore highway from its present terminus at San Mateo to Redwood City.

NERVY BANDITS ROB SAN CARLOS BANK

Two robbers entered the Bank of America of California at San Carlos shortly after 12 o'clock Tuesday and after binding the teller, took about $3,000 in cash from that institution.

The robbers apparently were watching the bank, as they selected a time for the holdup just after C. R. Percival, the cashier, had left at 12 o'clock and before Horace Laughlin, the teller, could lock the money in the safe. The robbers entered when Laughlin was alone in the bank and covered him with a pistol, ordering him to lie down on the floor. When the teller was on the floor they bound him securely with wire and threw him in the vault. The bandits, after placing the money in a small black suit case, left in an old grey sedan.

P. T. A. OBSERVES FOUNDER'S DAY

At the monthly meeting of the General Pershing Parent-Teachers' Association, held on Tuesday at the school on Hanover street, there was a large attendance of members and friends, the occasion being Founder's Day celebration.

The meeting was presided over by President Mrs. Fletcher, all the officers being present. Among the matters voted upon was the election of a vice-president to assist the president for the remainder of the term. Mrs. Lyons was nominated and unanimously elected, and was assured the good will and co-operation of all the officers and members. It was also decided to have a whist party on Friday, February 14, the proceeds to be used in helping a needy family in the community.

After the business matters were disposed of the gathering adjourned to the front lawn of the school, where two beautiful palms were planted and dedicated to the founder of the P. T. A. All the school children took part in the ceremony, singing "California" and "Sleepy Breezes." Mr. James Ferguson, principal of Jefferson Union high school, spoke in his usual pleasing manner on the growth of the palm and the natural qualities of the child.

Mrs. S. A. Landini read the history of the General Pershing P. T. A. for the year, which was compiled from the records of all the activities engaged in during that period, and must have convinced all who heard it that much had been accomplished to help the sick and needy, and for the general welfare of the children of the district. Refreshments were then served, and were much enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. Catch, who had charge of the arrangements, is to be congratulated on the lovely table decorations and the excellent fare provided. It was regretted that Mrs. Hassett, the principal of the school, was unable to be present on account of sickness. The P. T. A. extends thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Hassett and her teachers for their hearty co-operation in the program.

Visitors from other Associations included Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, Jefferson Union High; Mrs. Alexander, president Crocker P. T. A.; Mrs. Light, Mrs. Woodside, Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Locke, Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande P. T. A.

MIRAMAR MAN PASSES; VICTIM OF HEART ATTACK

A sudden heart attack was responsible for the death Saturday of Joseph Miguel, aged 60, well known resident of the coastside, and proprietor of the Palace Miramar hotel at Miramar. Miguel was at a place at El Granada, near his home, operated by A. S. Woodside and J. H. Hassler, when he was stricken.

An investigation was made of the circumstances surrounding Miguel's death by District Attorney Franklin Swart, owing to rumors that Miguel had been beaten by three men at his own establishment shortly before his death. Evidence, however, failed to corroborate these statements, and all evidence adduced tended to show that the hotel man had died from natural causes. An inquest was held Monday night in Half Moon Bay.

We read of a plant that can scrap an automobile within six minutes. With well directed co-operation a telephone pole can beat that.

Chief Doyle wishes to remind the public that it is against the law to drive a machine or motorcycle with the muffler open. This is a state law, and is strictly enforced in Daly City. Also it is against the law to discharge fire arms in the city limits. Several boys have been in the habit of going over the Crocker hills for target practice. This is against the law, and Chief Doyle wishes to warn the public that any one caught with a gun will find themselves in trouble, and the gun will be taken away from them by the police officers.

THE ONLY WAY

The story is told of Chief Justice W. H. Taft making a rather unfortunate error in opening his remarks to the graduates of an eastern college.

He was called upon rather unexpectedly and had not chosen his theme up to the time of entering the assembly hall. As he went through the swinging door into the hall, the plate on the door with the word "PUSH" attracted his attention and gave him the key word for his address.

"Gentlemen," he commenced, "before entering this hall I did not know upon what subject I should talk to you. As I entered, however, one word came to my attention that expresses and embodies all the advice I could give you. It is the ONLY thing by which you can attain success and the one thing which you, as men entering the world of business, must depend upon. You will find the subject of my talk printed on the door through which I entered."

The audience turned and gazed with amusement and surprise at the plate on the inside of the door on which was printed in large letters the word "PULL."—Forbes Magazine.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You
Have Not Been Drinking
Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of good water.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headache, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

HOLDOUT SEASON ON IN BASEBALL

Demands for More Dough Given Little Publicity.

The holdout season now is officially on in the baseball world. Of course, Babe Ruth opened his personal season weeks ago and there were a few echoes from Lefty O'Doul, Burleigh Grimes, and Wes Ferrell.

Now, anybody who hasn't signed his contract can hold out for any reason whatsoever. And he can be assured of a degree of privacy, for the usual demands for more dough at this season of the year are given little or no publicity. It's not until the traveling secretaries start buying training camp tickets that the rank and file of hold-out troops begin to get space in the public prints.

Members of the two championship teams usually are the main aggressors in this phase of the holdout era. This year promises to be no exception, especially with the world champion Athletics. Most of Connie Mack's boys are due to sign new documents, and there is no reason to believe that any one of them will hurry much about signing the first contracts offered them.

The Eastern Interclub Basketball league at a meeting held at the Crescent club, New York, named Dr. Charles W. Dayton as president to fill the unexpired term of Horace Fritts of the Montclair club, who has resigned. H. L. Van Richards, also of the Montclair club, will serve as vice president.

The league voted to adopt the intercollegiate rules for the remainder of the schedule.

The Amateur Athletic Union is going to get its shoulder behind hockey in the immediate future, according to President Avery Brundage. E. C. Delaporte of the Chicago A. A. U. has been appointed chairman of the hockey committee and will outline a program within the next few days.

The A. A. U. plans to manage the sport the same as track. Heretofore hockey has been in the hands of an affiliated national organization.

New York will not be without its Rockne influence during the 1930 football season. John Law, Notre Dame's 1929 football captain, has been appointed assistant coach at Manhattan college. Law, leader of one of the greatest teams Rockne ever put on the field, and his teammate, Cannon, were rated as the best pair of guards in the country.

Smead Jolley is the first Coast league player to hit 30 home runs in three successive seasons. He had 30 in 1927, 45 in 1928 and 35 in 1929, total 110 in three years. Other San Francisco players hitting 30 home runs in one season were: Bert Ellison, 33 in 1924; Frank Borwer, 36 in 1925; Frank O'Doul, 33 in 1927; Earl Averill, 36 in 1929, and Gus Suhr, 51 in 1929.

Ike Boone of the Mission Reds of the Pacific Coast league had the highest batting average of any player in organized baseball last season among the players who participated in more than 100 games. Only three players in twenty leagues, whose official averages have been released, compiled batting averages of .400. The three players were: Ike Boone, Mission, Pacific Coast, .407; Cramer, Martinsburg, Blue Ridge, .404; H. Pember, McCook, Nebraska State, .400.

Dr. James Naismith, who invented basketball, watched a game at Kansas recently in which the experiment of eliminating the center jump was tried. Afterward he stated that the elimination of the tip-off made the game monotonous, but also made it a little faster.

Fred Lindstrom, star third baseman of the New York Giants' club, has recovered from sickness that marred his efficiency in last year's play and is fit and ready for the fast approaching season, according to word received by the Giants' club from Lindstrom.

Lindstrom has been recuperating from an operation for tonsils. It is believed that infected tonsils caused the decline in his play in the 1929 season. Last year he played in 139 games and batted .318. His fielding record was only one point below those of Andy High of St. Louis and Pinkey Whitney of Philadelphia, the leaders.

But his 1929 performances were below those of 1928 in which he batted .358 and led the league in third base fielding.

It seems rather strange to arrange nearly a year in advance for a trainer to try with a horse for a two-minute record, but that is the case with the gray pacing mare, Gilda Gray, 2:01½, which Lon McDonald of Indianapolis recently sold to a California sportsman for $10,000. One of the conditions of the sale was that McDonald is to make the journey to the Arizona State fair meeting at Phoenix next November and endeavor to give the gray mare a record inside the two-minute list. The Phoenix track is one of the fastest in the country; Guy McKenney, 1:58½, and Mr. McElwain, 1:59¼, both took their best records there.

The 1930 woman's national golf championship, to be played on the Country club course, will be decided October 13 to 18 inclusive, the United States Golf association has announced.

SEASONABLE DISHES

What to eat and how to prepare it, is the daily problem of thousands of housewives all over the land.

The foods in season in one section are not always easy to find in another, but certain staples can always be depended upon, yet are not always economical.

Eggs are often high and scarce in the early months of the year, but citrus fruits are then at their lowest price and are usually most abundant. Apples now, because of the storage conveniences are most always available. The apple ranks high as a healthful fruit. The following will be found a most tasty dessert:

Tasettes.—Mix together one cupful of chopped apple, one cupful of soft brown sugar, four tablespoonfuls of flour blended with six tablespoonfuls of butter, one beaten egg yolk, one-half cupful each of milk and raisins and fold in the egg white beaten stiff. Pour into six buttered cups and steam well covered one and one-half hours. Turn out and serve with a warm custard.

Veal Heart.—Wash, trim and slice crosswise a calf's heart. Dip the slices in seasoned flour. Fry one small onion in one-fourth pound of sliced bacon fat, bacon removed, brown on both sides. Arrange in a casserole, pour over hot stock, add one-half chopped pimiento and green pepper, salt, pepper and a bit of bay leaf. Thicken slightly and pour over the meat. Cook slowly, closely covered two hours. Serve with the bacon and tart jelly.

Eggs in Jelly.—Scald and peel the feet from two chickens, cook in three pints of water with one onion, one carrot, one stalk of celery, all cut into bits. Simmer for several hours, strain and cook down to three cupfuls of liquid. Season well, add one-half tablespoonful of gelatin, softened in a tablespoonful of cold water, to the hot broth. Cut four hard cooked eggs lengthwise. Arrange the eggs in a mold with rings of stuffed olives, bits of breast of chicken and pour chicken broth over all. Chill. Turn out and garnish with chopped parsley and pimiento. If the chicken feet are not used double the gelatin.

A CHAPTER OF SAUCES

A well made and appropriate sauce will take an ordinary meat dish out of its class, making it a real creation. The following are a few that are different:

Breton Beef Sauce.—Take one tablespoonful each of sugar, horseradish and made mustard, mix with four tablespoonfuls of vinegar.

Lamb Sauce.—Pour one-fourth cupful of boiling water over four tablespoonfuls of chopped mint leaves, let stand until cold, then add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and enough orange marmalade to make a thick sauce.

Unusual Meat Sauce.—Mix together two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of grated chocolate, one-half cupful of preserved currants, one tablespoonful of shredded orange peel and the same amount of capers. Pour over these ingredients a cupful of vinegar and let stand for several hours. Before serving strain off the extra vinegar.

Olive Sauce.—Mix together one tablespoonful each of melted butter and flour, add one cupful of good stock. Stir and cook until smooth and thick. Add a scant teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and one dozen finely chopped olives. Season with a little salt and pepper. Let the mixture simmer gently for three minutes.

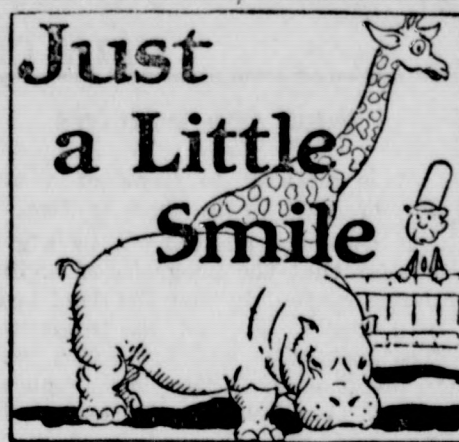

Egg Sauce for Fish.—Mash the yolks of three hard cooked eggs with two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of rich cream and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Another is prepared with a white sauce, two hard cooked eggs chopped fine and salt and pepper to taste. Allow two eggs to each pint of white sauce. This is good served with cauliflower.

Celery Sauce.—Blend two tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half cupful of butter, add to one pint of boiling milk. Chop very fine three bunches of celery and boil for five minutes, strain and add the celery to the sauce. Season with salt, pepper and a bit of mace if liked. This sauce brings out the flavor of fish, game or meat.

Orange Sauce for Pudding.—Beat two egg whites until stiff, add gradually, one-half cupful of orange juice and the same quantity of confectioner's sugar, stirring all the time. Grate the orange rind over the sauce and serve over cottage pudding or sponge cake.

Mustard Sauce.—To one teaspoonful of evaporated milk add one teaspoonful of mustard, mix well and then beat in eight tablespoonfuls of olive oil, drop by drop, and one tablespoonful of vinegar.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

A COLD

As soon as you realize you've taken cold—take some tablets of Bayer Aspirin. Almost before your head can stuff-up, you feel your cold is conquered. Those aches and pains you felt coming on will soon subside. Relief is almost instantaneous! Even if your cold has gained headway, and your temples throb and your very bones ache, these tablets will bring prompt relief. It is better, of course, to take Bayer Aspirin at the very first sneeze or cough—it will head-off the cold and spare you much discomfort. Get the genuine, with proven directions for colds and headaches; neuralgia, neuritis, sore throat, and many important uses.

5218 Happy People Give up Their Secret

JUST suppose you could get 5000 joyously happy people together in one big hall and could ask them what made them all so full of pep. Suppose, strangely enough, that all of them had discovered the same way to be happy. You would feel that here, if anywhere in the world, was the secret of how to get joy out of life.

This is just what has happened during the last few weeks. We knew there were millions of people who had found the secret of happiness in the same way, and we asked them in one or two small announcements in the magazines and newspapers to tell us their story. Letters came to us from practically all over the globe.

All of them said "The secret of happiness is health."

How to get this health? The way that all of these people had discovered was not some magic medicine, not some powerful drug, not some difficult course of training—but only a simple, harmless, natural method. It was to keep the body internally clean, sweeping its natural poisons away each day, regularly as clock work—by the use of Nujol.

These people had made a great discovery. They had found out that Nujol contains no drugs; that it is as tasteless and colorless as pure water; pleasant to take and forms no habit; that it cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take; that it is non-fattening; not absorbed by the body;

They have found the way to Buoyant, Zestful Health, and the Joy that goes with it that it is only the internal lubrication your body needs, just like any other machine. It sounds like a fairy tale, doesn't it, to be well and happy so easily? Well, all you need to do to find out if these people have made a real discovery is to get a bottle of Nujol today at any drug store and take it for two weeks. It costs but a few cents and it makes you feel like a million dollars. The sure way to happiness is through health.

WHAT MAKES WOMEN BUY

It is well known by all live merchants, and by husbands as well, that practically all buying for the home is either actually done by women or directed by them. For this reason the merchant's greatest problem is to attract the favorable attention of women to his wares.

Women are alert to grasp opportunities to secure merchandise at a bargain and they are more discriminating buyers than men, as a rule. They read advertisements and act upon the information obtained thereby.

In order to determine just what advertising mediums have the greatest influence on women's buying a survey recently made by a Los Angeles advertising club, developed some interesting facts. Replies from 1,000 women of all classes were obtained in answer to a questionnaire listing the various advertising mediums and asking what form of advertising influenced them most.

Newspapers were credited with greatest influence by 36 per cent of these women, magazine advertising by 22 per cent, street car advertising by a fraction over 4 per cent, announcement cards and program advertising by less than 4 per cent, while booklets, pamphlets and circular letters influenced less than 2 per cent.

Thus again is demonstrated what very wide-awake merchant must have already observed—that news paper advertising is the most potent medium for reaching women buyers. And this applies with equal force to men buyers too.

Washington has had a "panther" scare. Maybe it was the Tammany tiger nosin' around.

OUR LAST CLIPPER SHIP

News dispatches recently mentioned the sale of an unusual antique, described as an item in the "art" collection of Max Williams of New York. It was a 2,000-ton vessel, the Benjamin F. Packard, last of the clipper ships, saved from the scrap-heap as a relic when placed out of commission a few years ago.

The achievements of the long line of American clipper ships which carried the Stars and Stripes and bore American commerce on the seven seas are notable in the history of navigation. These sturdy and speedy vessels represented the last effort of the sailing ship to compete with the steamer on long voyages with heavy cargo. Though finally defeated, they delayed the victory of steam propulsion for many years.

First of the clipper type was the Rainbow, built in 1843 at Baltimore, home of a famous fleet of these fast vessels, which often beat the steamers of their day in trans-Atlantic voyages. The quickest crossing of the Atlantic under sail is said to have been that of the Dreadnought, New York to Ireland, in 12 days, in June, 1859.

Another famous record was that of the Lightning, built in Boston, which once sailed 2,550 English miles in seven days. The fastest day's record ever made by a sailing ship on any sea was 437 miles in 24 hours by the Sovereign of the Seas, during a voyage between New York and San Francisco.

From the Rainbow to the Benjamin F. Packard these speedy clippers served their owners and their country well. They bore eloquent testimony to the genius of American shipbuilders and to the consummate seamanship of American sailors.

FIRE AND PARROTS

It is difficult to think of a more horrible way to die than by fire.

It was once pointed out by a great scholar that the progress of civilization is made only over the dead bodies of pioneers. So, too, the progress in fire prevention and protection seems to await horrible fire catastrophes to arouse consciousness of the fire danger. In 1929 the red hand of fire snuffed out many lives.

In an editorial of January 17, 1930, the New York Herald Tribune pointed out that the public concern over the so-called parrot fever was quite out of proportion to the seriousness of the problem. Suppose a dozen people in the United States had really died of Psittacosis, or parrot fever; there are at least twice as many deaths due to fire each day and only those actively working to prevent fires seem to worry about the appalling loss. Attention is directed to just eight recent fires that caused serious loss of life:

Fire in a Russian motion picture theatre caused death of 120 persons; in a hotel at Amarillo, Texas, 5; in Cleveland Clinic, 124; in explosion and fire in Eastman hospital, Canton, China, 80; in fire test at Gillingham, England, 15; in cabaret in Detroit, 11 men and 9 women were burned or trampled to death; in fire in paper box company, Baltimore, 4 women died; in New Year's Eve fire in motion picture theatre in Paisley, Scotland, 72 children were trampled or smothered to death.

In the United States, fire takes an annual toll of 10,000 lives and $500,000,000 in property losses, according to National Board of Fire Underwriters.

A large percentage of deaths from fire occur in homes. This is hard to understand in progressive America, where so many fire preventions are within the reach of the average household. Homes can be made comparatively safe against fire and the life hazard greatly reduced.

THE OBNOXIOUS BILLBOARD

No blots upon the landscape so detract from their beauty as the large billboards now so common throughout the state. No objects of like size are so offensively obtrusive, for their commercial value is supposed to depend upon their conspicuousness and therefore they are rudely thrust before one's eyes close to the highway, too often at places of greatest natural beauty. It really seems that the well balanced business man would recognize that this disfiguration of our choicest landscapes is offensive to all who travel and would find more respectable and more acceptable means of advertising his wares. It is quite certain that if all billboards were removed business would not in the least suffer, and in this day of heavy motor car travel, the advertiser certainly offends more than he can possibly please.

Sporadic agitation against these ingeniously placed disfigurements has occasionally been in evidence for many years, but the advertiser who now places his ear to the ground may hear the increasing roar of an oncoming troop of zealous workers who are thoroughly awake to the necessity of ridding our fair state of these blots which are the basis of more complaints from visiting tourists than any and all other material disfigurements that deface our world-famous natural scenery. Already municipal banishment is being visited upon the worst of these offenders and organizations of various kinds have taken the work in hand. Many improvement societies are listing the names of those who so advertise and are asking them to discontinue their patronage of billboards. Others are listing and refusing to buy of the offenders. No business can be promoted by improper means, and the number of those who will not patronize billboard advertisers is growing rapidly and time, which levels all things, may be trusted, aided by organized effort, to bring about the reaction which will recall such advertisers to their senses. Less obtrusive methods of advertising will bring better results and our motorists will no longer be driven almost to distraction through the blotting out of views of our richest landscapes.—E. B. in the California Cultivator.

WHO IS EDUCATED?

Amidst the confusion among various schools of thought regarding present-day education, it is really difficult to find a satisfactory yardstick with which to measure that elusive individual, the educated man. Many hold the view that no one is truly educated unless he is familiar with the classics, proficient in several languages living and dead, versed in higher mathematics, and so on. Another school while recognizing the desirability of a classical education when circumstances permit, denies that the classicists have license to lord it over their more practical brethren, or to lay exclusive claims to real education.

In this connection a thought recently expressed by the Boston philanthropist, Edward A. Filene, is pertinent. He declares that "the educated mind today is the mind which best learns how to use the knowledge in existence, particularly those truths which apply to the thing which he is doing."

And that seems to be a very good definition.

THE EARTH'S SHAPE

If asked who first conceived the idea that the world is round, many would give the credit to Columbus, because his belief in the spherical form of the earth led him to undertake the famous voyage which resulted in the discovery of America.

The fact is, however, that the true figure of the earth was known to astronomers long before the birth of Christ, although the spherical theory never gained wide acceptance among the ancients.

Eratosthenes, a Greek geometer and astronomer who flourished in the second century before Christ, is generally credited with being the first to discover the principals whereby the earth might be measured. Although his actual results were inaccurate, his method was sound.

Centuries before Eratosthenes some astronomers regarded the earth as a sphere, but generally considered it to be the center of the universe. It is said that Pythagoras, born in 582 B.C. was the first to declare that the earth revolved around the sun, but that he only taught this secretly to a few chosen disciples.

Many persons today do not believe, or pretend not to believe, that the earth is round. Among these may be mentioned Overseer Voliva and his religious community at Zion, Ill., although Rev. Olivia is a college graduate, who employs modern scientific appliances and is an ardent radio fan.

RAISE YOUR HAPPINESS LEVEL

A very wise man once remarked that the one way to get the most possible out of life is "not to expect very much." That is genuine philosophy. Most of our experiences, after all, are mental. Certainly, our measure of happiness does not rise and fall with our bank account. Too many of us look upon health and happiness and prosperity as our normal due. When we experience anything less than one hundred per cent of this, we feel entitled to grumble.

To raise your daily average of happiness, lower your expectations. Frankly realize that the millennium is not here, that earth is not heaven, that sorrow as well as joy is the human lot, that adversity has a habit of intermingling with prosperity, that there are valleys as well as hilltops along the pathway of life. Don't rate your deserts too highly; reason, rather than you usually get what you deserve, if not more. Be humble.

By adopting a wise mental attitude towards life, see if you can not thereby disarm or at least take the edge off disappointments and heighten appreciation of your blessings—and heighten your happiness.—Forbes Magazine.

THE LIFE SAVING CAMPAIGN

Accident prevention is not something that can be applied from without. It is within the personal jurisdiction of every citizen.

During the past decade the accident record in industry has been greatly decreased. Part of this is due, of course, to mechanical safeguards. But the greater part of the credit must go to the fact that industrial executives, through education and example, have given workers a knowledge of the accident problem that makes them avoid and remove hazards.

We would have practically no automobile accidents if all drivers were competent, careful and law-abiding. It is the reckless or careless driver who is responsible for the 21,000 deaths caused annually by automobiles in this country.

At the present time the progressive schools of the nation are adopting accident prevention courses as part of their curricula. A sense of personal responsibility for accidents is instilled into the child to develop the "life saving" instinct.

Adult Americans should benefit from the safety training the schools give their children and understand that accident prevention is more a personal than a legislative accomplishment.

CERTAINTY OF PUNISHMENT

Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing penitentiary recently said that the famous New York Baumes laws, which automatically give a criminal life-imprisonment on his fourth conviction for a felony, have failed to decrease crime.

According to Warden Lawes they have resulted in a sort of arbitration between the criminal and the officials, as the latter have found it exceedingly difficult to obtain a conviction when the fourth crime is a minor one. Many experts hold that severity of punishment and superfluous laws defeat their own ends, whereas certainty of punishment is feared by the criminal.

We do not need more laws, or more severe punishments. But we do need machinery to speedily enforce basic laws, uncontaminated by politics.

Crime legislators should turn their attention to providing methods for apprehending and punishing criminals instead of passing volumes of new laws which continually restrict the rights of the law-abiding citizen, thereby making more "technical law-breakers."

WATCH THE SIGNALS

Mrs. Fred Sweha, member of the Safety Conference of the California State Chamber of Commerce, states that numerous accidents occur every day because of failure to obey the stop and go signals.

"The men on the boulevard is justified in assuming that a motorist approaching on a cross street will obey the stop rule before entering the boulevard. When the stop is not made and a motorist suddenly emerges from a cross street into the path of vehicles on the boulevard, a smash-up is very likely to occur."

"Recent traffic checks show that over 80 per cent of motorists comply with the law. Those who do not, create a hazard for themselves and endanger others. One of our heaviest traveled boulevard stop streets shows a very high percentage of accidents. These are caused in a large measure by the failure on the part of a few to obey the stop rule. Excessive speed and lack of consideration on the part of motorists on the boulevards also contribute to the property damage and personal injury resulting from collisions on the highways."

"Starting before the green traffic signal is shown, has caused a substantial number of minor accidents, according to police records. The traffic STOP and GO signals are an excellent means of preventing traffic tie-ups and insuring safety at congested intersections."

WEEK OF FIRST RUN HITS AT DALY CITY

Starting tomorrow the Daly City Theatre will offer a big week of first run attractions, starting off with the ever popular Jack Mulhall in "Dark Streets" a big all talking mystery thriller with Mulhall playing the first dual role of the talkies. On this same bill Raymond Hatton and Sam Hardy will appear in "Dear Vivian," a screamingly funny talking comedy. Other attractions will be on this same bill.

For Sunday, playing a continuous performance, the Daly City will offer beautiful Billie Dove in "Her Private Life," a glorious talking comedy drama in which she is supported by Walter Pidgeon.

Monday will bring Eddie's Adversary to the Daly City Theatre, with a big party on the stage, with loads of fun and lots of surprises. The feature film attraction for Monday night will be Clara Bow in the Paramount talking comedy special "The Saturday Night Kid."

For Tuesday and Wednesday the Daly City Theatre will present Betty Compson in her latest and greatest talking picture, "Woman to Woman."

It is the singing, talking, dancing sensation of the present day Talkies, a picture play that you can not afford to miss. On the same bill Edward Everett Horton will entertain in "Ask Dad."

For Thursday and Friday, Marshall Neilan's big all tiking, all thrilling mystery special, "Black Waters," will be presented. In the all star cast of players will be found such names as James Kirkwood, Mary Brian, Hallam Cooley, Lloyd Hamilton, John Loder, and a host of others. On the same bill Freddie Davis will appear in the Pathé comedy, "The Salesman." A bouncing ball novelty and the News will round out the bill.

SHAMEFUL JOURNALISM

Now that the hysteria has died down, all but the most superstitious must realize the foolishness of the recent craze at Malden, Mass., where the grave of an obscure priest, dead 60 years, was said to have worked miraculous cures. Of course, there were no miracles, and no real cures.

To an honest newspaper man, the outstanding fact about the whole pitiful business was the disgraceful part played by certain metropolitan daily newspapers and tabloids. These journals, in their insatiable hunger for the sensational, reported every wild and preposterous tale, printed faked photographs and in every possible manner exploited the credulity of the ignorant for the sake of selling extra papers.

No attempt was made to get at the truth of the situation, or to explain the circumstances which surrounded the alleged miracles. To have done so would have spoiled the golden harvest the first day. Even when reported cures were denied by relatives of persons concerned, the newspapers refused to print the denials.

One decent reporter, Gardener Jackson, made a painstaking investigation of numerous cases and gave the facts in detail; none showing any evidence of a miracle. While the hysteria was still at its height, he wrote:

"The papers go on reporting cures; giving photographs. I've seen some of these photographs being taken—pitifully crippled children being urged to stand without braces before the camera men. I saw one boy collapse twice before he could get up strength to stand before the cameras with his braces in his hand. The Boston newspapers, selling like hot cakes, are trading on the sincere faith of hundreds of thousands of their readers. It is shameful commercial journalism."

CHIEF KEPT HIS WORD

The story of Chief Joseph, doughty Nez Perce warrior who made plenty of trouble for United States troopers some decades ago, and the faithfulness with which he kept his word when finally constrained to give up the warpath, are recalled by a recent writer.

On the spot in Montana where he surrendered to General Miles some 50 years ago has been erected a monument to his memory, on which the following is inscribed:

"Chief Joseph was a military genius, courageous and humane. Presenting his rifle to General Miles, with right hand upraised, he proclaimed: 'From where the sun now stands, I will fight no more forever.' He kept his word."

Although many would class Chief Joseph as a savage, he had a high sense of honor. His word, once given, was inviolable. It would be a wonderful thing for this old world if it should develop that the so-called civilized nations which signed the Kellogg peace pact shall, like him, keep their solemn word.

Customer: "To what do you owe your extraordinary success as a house to house salesman?"

Salesman: "To the first five words I utter when a woman opens the door—'Miss, is your mother in?'"—Tit-Bits.

"How did you like the party, my son?"

"Awful! You said I could eat as much as I liked, and I couldn't."—Buen Humor (Madrid.)

GRAY HAIR IS EASILY DARKENED

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan county, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Anyone can darken their gray or faded hair, and look twenty years younger with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy, and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."

To err is human; also to hatch up an alibi about it.

The Crippled Lady of Peribonka

STORY FROM THE START

Introducing some of the people of the pretty little French-Canadian village of Peribonka, particularly the Crippled Lady, idol of the simple inhabitants.

From the hour Paul opened his eyes to the light of life he had in him the soul of an Indian. After a hundred and thirty-five years the blood of the lovely Molly Brant had come into its own. One would not have guessed it from the boy's physical appearance, for he was light rather than dark, with blue eyes and blond hair. But the modern Molly, who lived in a palace, with a Croesus for a husband, saw what was happening as the years passed by. Her boy grew lean of face and figure. His cheek bones were a little high. His love for the outdoors became a passion. She made it possible for him to spend his vacations in the woods, and each time he returned she knew that something had been taken away from him and a little more of the other thing put in its place. The servants thought he was queer, and loved his quiet and stoical kindness, which was many years older than his age. Most boys would have lived up to the princely grandeur of his environment. To Paul it meant less than a tree with birds singing in its branches.

In his thirteenth year came three events of vital importance in the shaping of his future. First his mother died. No one would ever know the terrible, unhealing wound it cut in Paul's heart. It was James Kirke, the hardened and power-seeking juggernaut of flesh and blood who went to pieces when he discovered that death had been fearless enough to cross his path. His agony was like a storm, tragic for a time, and quickly over. He settled back into the fierce strife of his money getting by the time Paul began to grieve. But the shadow and the fact of death changed him a little. He saw himself alone, except for his son. And this son, after years of passing interest on his part, became the kernel of his plans and ambitions. He was now king. Some day his boy would be king. And it was his desire and his decision that he should be a greater king than himself. Pride fired his resolution.

But here the geographical genius of Fate again stepped in with humors of its own. In another Fifth avenue home a baby girl was born to the wife of Kirke's most implacable financial enemy, Henry Durand. A few months later, three thousand miles or more away, an immigrant ship left for America. On board this ship was a clear-eyed, hopeful woodcutter from the mountain country of central Europe. With him were his wife and baby. They were an unimportant three. The sea might have swallowed them and no one would have cared very much, for their adventure was only one of millions of a similar kind. The immigrant baby's fortune began and ended with the few little clothes she wore. The other baby was worth millions one second after she came into the world.

Paul continued to grow up, and with equal steadiness his father continued to amass fortune and influence. It was his passion to smash and break down, then devour and build up—until some one called him the Anaconda, a name which fitted him so well that the newspapers would have used it had they dared. Kirke was always within the legal boundaries of his country's laws. He absorbed shipping companies, railroads, coal mines, and timberlands, and sent out his engineers to corner vast water-power rights. From an industrial point of view he was constructively an asset, for wherever he broke down or consumed small activities he built up larger ones. But morally and ethically his brain was inspired by a covetous and avid desire to rule. He was intolerant of rivalry, and this brought him each year in closer and more deadly contact with the equally far-reaching interests of Henry Durand. The titanic struggle between these two Goliaths of financial and industrial activities is a part of Wall street history. The more interesting story of Paul and the two babies is known only to a few, chiefly about Lac St. Jean.

That his father married again soon after Molly Kirke's death and had another son did not hurt Paul, except that it made him grieve more deeply for his mother and added to his loneliness. He got along only fairly well in college, because he could never completely shake his mind to duties that were confined within stone and brick walls. It took him an extra year to finish an engineering course, and after that he was never happy except when in the open spaces. In a business way he was interested only in his father's timberlands and such water-power projects as were situated in the wilderness. As a whole he was a disappointment to his parent.

One restless night the greatest of all his ideas came to James Kirke. The next day he went boldly and in friendly spirit to the office of Henry Durand, and for hours the two colossal talked over Kirke's suggestion that their interests be combined into one giant force of countless millions. They parted friends. In a little while they were seen at the clubs together. Later the all-powerful Kirke-Durand corporation became a reality. The fifty old warriors worked hand in hand, their assets multiplied. Their palatial homes were scenes of mutual intercourse. Their wives were intimate. Their children became acquainted.

In his thirty-second year Paul married Claire Durand. In his thirty-eighth year, the son of one of the richest men in New York, he was officially in charge of the huge engineering work on the Mistassini river in the wilderness north of Lac St. Jean and had been three years on the job.

During these three years he had known Carla Haldan.

He was thinking of Carla as he looked from a window of his bungalow office on the hill down over the vast and naked workings of an engineering achievement which was costing fifty million dollars. He felt no exultation or thrill of pride, and in his eyes was a far-back, somber gloom. What he saw was to him an unending and nauseous pit into which a steady and monotonous drizzle of rain was falling. There were fifteen hundred men on the job below him working in three eight-hour shifts, and neither darkness nor storm could stop them. He could see them moving and crawling about like ants at their labor. In his mind they added nothing to the scene, unless it was to give grimmer reality to a hell that was smoking and boiling over. Everywhere a rumble and din, everywhere the fierce and heartbreaking labor of men, everywhere the ugliness and madness of a man-made place of torment.

Paul was thinking this even with Carla Haldan in his mind. He could see the gray-white staves and dykes with their cement and steel walls, and the monster sections of the almost completed dam, which was to harness northern waters to the production of light and power for twenty million people. Three years of human effort and millions in capital lay under his eyes. Yet about it all was only one excusable and beautiful thing for him. That was the rim of wilderness, the green and black and purple boundaries of the forest which clung like a frame about the workings.

His contemplation of the scene in the valley was interrupted by a voice at his office door, and he turned to greet the most intimate of his friends in the field, Colin Derwent, who was the company's medical man. Even on rainy days, and with his boots clogged with mud, Derwent was a cheerful soul. With his Frenchy little mustache, his smooth cheeks, his liveliness of movement, and his appreciation of all phases of life, he continued to bear the appearance of a boy, though he had filled an important chair in medicine in Johns Hopkins.

Left-Handedness

After a close study of several sets of identical twins, two eastern scientists have observed that there is an apparent relation between the tendency to left-handedness and the direction in which whorls in the hair curve, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

In every case where it was possible to determine whether the hair on the crown of the head grows in a right-handed, or clockwise, spiral it was discovered that the person had a more or less strongly developed tendency to right-handedness. If the whorl was curved to the left, the person was left-handed.

Daily Thought

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Completion of the first lap of the North Fork highway through the Feather River Canyon will take place in thirty working days according to contractors.

Water main extensions, costing approximately $2,500, were authorized by the Manteca City Council after plans for the work had been submitted by E. M. Leventon, water superintendent.

Under a contract recently negotiated with the Solano County Board of Supervisors, H. G. Butler, San Francisco electrical engineer, began work on the industrial survey in Solano County. The survey is a preliminary move to the establishment of the proposed port and shipping terminal on the Vallejo-Benicia waterfront.

The State Highway Commission has authorized condemnation proceedings for a highway that will replace the famous scenic ridge route, connecting Southern California with San Joaquin Valley. B. B. Meek, State director of public works, said bids will be called for at once. Bidding will be on the first section of the proposed route and will cost approximately $1,000,000. The entire project should be completed in three years.

Heavy snows throughout many sections of California have caused the Division of Fish and Game to issue word to all sportsmen of the State to report at once any cases of failure of food supply for game birds and animals to the nearest deputy Fish and Game Commissioner. Where deer, quail or other game birds or animals are facing starvation because the available food supply is covered with snow, the State conservation body stands ready and willing to contribute man power and finances for the purpose of taking care of the situation.

The Kaweah fish hatchery at Hammond, on the banks of the Kaweah River below Three Rivers, was again placed in operation early in January, when 300,000 eastern brook trout eggs were received from Kingston, Mass. Other shipments from various sources will arrive in the near future, according to Supt. Ed Clessen. This, he declares, marks beginning of the hatching season.

Increased expense of maintaining the isolated "little red schoolhouse," some of them having only two or three pupils, was a problem for California educators recently. Legislative enactment of a provision that schools must have at least ten pupils was proposed as a solution. Cost per pupil in many of the isolated rural schools has mounted to more than $500, and in the smallest school in the state, located at Thompson, Mendocino County, with an average daily attendance of only two pupils, the expense for the year was $1363. Records of Vierling Kersey, state educational chief, showed the biggest contrast in Los Angeles, where the smallest county school, located in Mint Canyon, boasted five pupils, as compared with the 148,552 enrolled in Los Angeles city schools. As contrasted with Oakland's average daily attendance of 30,348, there are two Alameda County rural schools with only six pupils each. The second smallest school in the state, located at Willow, El Dorado County, has only three pupils attending regularly, bringing the cost per pupil to more than $500. An average daily attendance of four students is reported at the little Salt Spring Valley school, Calaveras County, at a cost rate of $400 per pupil.

Transport planes, between San Francisco-Oakland and Chicago fly 317 miles less than the train mileage and 451 miles less than the transcontinental highway distance, show figures compiled by Boeing System, operators of the air mail over this course. Mileages are: Automobile 2394; Rail 2260; Air 1943. Air mail cuts 301 miles off the rail distance between Los Angeles and Seattle, making the flight in twelve hours elapsed time against train time of forty hours. Comparative mileages are: Rail 1400; Automobile 1274; Air 1099.

Four rural fire trucks, recently authorized by the State Board of Forestry, and similar to four operated by the Forestry Department last year, will be built at once and put into service at the start of the forest fire season, May 1, it was announced at Sacramento by State Forester M. B. Pratt. The new fire fighting apparatus will be assigned to northern California districts. One will be for Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties; one for Shasta, Siskiyou and Trinity counties; one for El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties, and one for the north Butte County protection district. Each of the trucks, when put into service, will be under supervision of the district inspector. Last year the four outfits, stationed at Auburn, Ukiah, Bakersfield and Riverside, saved property estimated at $400,000.

The Fresno City Commission has voted to create a citizens' finance commission to act in advisory capacity with reference to expenditure of funds by the city. The commission will be composed of six members, who will serve without pay. Finance Commissioner William Glass will act as ex-officio chairman of the commission.

Found guilty of possessing deer meat out of season, J. L. Phelps of Dorris was ordered to pay a fine of $360 by Justice of the Peace Harrison Wilkins or spend 180 days in the county jail. Phelps chose the jail sentence.

Girl at the Top in Health Test

Millions of boys and girls all over the world, thousands of them right here in the West are being restored to health and strength by the purely vegetable tonic and laxative known as California Fig Syrup and endorsed by physicians for over 50 years.

Children need no urging to take it. They love its rich, fruity flavor. Nothing can compete with it as a gentle, but certain laxative, and it goes further than this. It gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels so these organs continue to act normally, of their own accord. It stimulates the appetite, helps digestion.

A Kansas mother, Mrs. Dana Allgire, 610 Monroe St., Topeka, says: "Donnie B. is absolutely the picture of health, now, with her ruddy cheeks, bright eyes and plump but graceful little body and she stands at the top in every health test."

Much of the credit for her perfect condition is due to California Fig Syrup. We have used it since babyhood to keep her bowels active during colds or any children's ailments and she has always had an easy time with them. She always responds to its gentle urging and is quickly back to normal."

Ask your druggist for California Fig Syrup and look for the word "California" on the carton so you'll always get the genuine.

As We Grow Older

We Should Keep Careful Watch of our Kidneys.

KIDNEY disorders are too serious to ignore. It pays to heed the early signals. Scanty, burning or too frequent kidney excretions; a drowsy, listless feeling; lameness, stiffness and constant backache are timely warnings.

To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Used and recommended the world over. Sold by good dealers everywhere.

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Mrs. Alice Gunnis, 3440 Harrison Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "I suffered with a dull ache across my back that bothered me a great deal when I was doing my housework. When stopping, my back pained so that it was a task to straighten up again. My kidneys acted very irregularly, but after taking Doan's Pills I felt fine again and the backache left me. I gladly recommend Doan's."

Returning to the street where the truck had been left standing, they found that someone had driven away with it. A revised report was made to headquarters.

The art of a certain young cartoonist of Mexico City may be convincing to others, but not to the artist himself. After winning a prize for an anti-liquor poster he spent the money for drink and landed in jail.

Striking a stump his car executed a complete somersault, landing on all four wheels and proceeding on its way with Guilel nonchalantly driving. COST OF ELECTRICITY 200 TIMES LESS THAN CANDLES

Back in the days of candles it would have cost $450 to get as much illumination as one can buy today for $2.10, according to a statement by the Illuminating Engineering Society.

Lighting a room with one 100-watt electric lamp, at an average rate of 7 cents a kilowatt hour would cost $2.10. (The rate in practically all cities in the P. G. & E. system will be 4½ cents after March 1.) The engineers estimate it would have cost our forefathers $450 for enough candles to do the same job.

As a matter of fact, 2,000 candles were used at a reception given to George Washington in 1790, and the expense was about $10 an hour.

GOOD ROADS ECONOMY

It has been frequently asserted that good roads really cost nothing in the long run, but really yield a profit on the investment necessary to provide them. Recent statistics seem to bear out this idea.

According to Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, good roads have reduced the cost of automobile operation from an average of 10 cents a mile to 6.43 cents a mile in the last five years.

This means that for a trip of 100 miles the expense is now $3.57 less than it would have been under average conditions in 1925, taking into account the cost of gasoline, the less wear on

Sunny ELECTRIC HEAT for cold days

The lion and the lamb have their fling at the weather throughout the spring months. So keep a portable electric heater handy for the sudden changes to cold and rain.

The widespread heat and sunny, cheerful glow of the electric heater banish chills. Use your electric heater in the breakfast room. Use it for dressing, bathing or when the children come home with cold, wet feet. Healthful electric warmth helps prevent colds and gives your entire family much comfort.

There are two types of portable electric heaters. Those that give a beam of heat where you want it and those that heat and circulate the air. Your dealer or our office has both types.

Condemned

Two small boys had attended their first baptismal service and were found an hour later down in the basement surrounded by several forlorn, wet kittens which had just been baptized in a pail of water. Struggling to put the cat into the water and finding their efforts useless, the younger was heard to remark: "Aw, if we can't put her under, just sprinkle her and let her go to hell."

The Boss: "Robert, I hope you try to save half what you earn."

Office Boy: "I don't get that much, sir."

For Score Cards for Whist Parties, call at this office.

Goldberg (to his secretary): "Miss Smith, if Mr. Blum comes to see me today, tell him I'm out."

Miss Smith: "Yes, sir."

Goldberg (calling her back): "Oh, Miss Smith. You had better just loaf on your job so that when Blum sees you he'll be convinced that I really am out."

The stingy farmer was scoring the hired man for carrying a lighted lantern to call on his best girl.

"The idea!" he exclaimed. "When I was courtin' I never carried no lantern. I went in the dark."

"Yes," said the hired man sadly, "and look what you got."

Yes, we sell Paints and Oils—the best.

If at first you don't succeed, try hard work.

Bob: "Have you heard the latest Ford joke?"

White: "Heard it? Why say, man, I just bought one."

Millionaire (to some of his proteges): "I owe all my success to only one thing. Pluck, just pluck."

Sagacious questioner: "How do you find the right people to pluck?"

Boss: "Don't you ever do anything on time?"

Clerk: "Yes, sir. I bought my radio set that way."
